Speaker

Dennis Perez is a Certified Tax Specialist with the preeminent tax law firm of Hochman, Salkin, Rettig, Toscher & Perez, P.C., in Beverly Hills. He was formerly a senior trial attorney with District Counsel, Internal Revenue Service, in Los Angeles, California. Dennis has extensive experience in the representation of clients in criminal and civil tax litigation and administrative tax disputes and controversies before the Internal Revenue Service and each of the California taxing agencies. He is President of the Alumni Board and lecturer for the UCLA School of Law and is an Adjunct Professor, Golden Gate University, Graduate School of Taxation (1999 to present). He frequently lectures on advanced criminal and civil tax topics at seminars and before state and local bar associations and accountancy groups. In fact, Dennis was a regular presenter at our CPA/Law Society meetings from 2002 to 2004, and his presentations were always very well received.
